L. W. V. INVITE PUBLIC FOR MILLIKAN TALK

CPYRGHT

Concord — Max. F. Millikan, director of Center for International Studies at M.I.T., will speak at an open meeting of League of Women Voters on Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. in Alcott School Auditorium. Dr. Millikan's talk on the subject of "Political Purposes of Foreign Aid Programs" will initiate this year's League program on the subject of United States foreign policy.

Dr. Millikan became director of the M. I. T. Center for International Studies in 1952 after wide experience in Washington, holding posts in the Division of Research for Europe, the President's Committee on Foreign Aid and the Central Intelligence Agency.

During the war he worked with various agencies and with the State Department on economic intelligence problems. The center, with which Dr. Millikan is now associated, conducts research in the social sciences bearing on problems of decision making in foreign policy and international relations. Its work is that of searching for answers to foreign policy questions Americans are asking at this time.

The League cordially invites everyone to attend this meeting.
